CLOS DU ROY

Fronsac

James Suckling – Avril 2017

Aromas of tar, blackberries and cherries. Full body and a lightly extracted and austere mouthfeel, yet this is flavorful and savory. Intriguing wine. Drink now.

Couleur sombre, intense et belle. Nez fruité et crémeux. Bouche juteuse, savoureuse, au fruité éclatant et à la tannicité enveloppée. Longueur normale.

The 2014 Clos du Roy had a deep color compared to its peers. The nose felt a tad pinched despite aeration: dense and very fruit, cola and sandalwood aromas. The palate is medium-bodied with firm tannin, crisp acidity, a pleasant freshness coming through on the slightly obdurate structure. Clean and poised black fruit define the finish of this well-crafted Fronsac that I feel has improved since its showing during en primeur.

Fruits noirs, cerise, charnu, suie, beaucoup de fond, note fumée, tannins fermes, serrés, très savoureux.
